

EMPLOYEE TRAVEL

Statistics say that at any given point of time 20% of an airline's employees are using their privileges for Non Revenue Travel, in addition to the travel they undertake in Positive Space for Company purpose.

Most airlines have an Internal Travel Bureau that deals with Employee Travel & Ticketing. But they are accessible only during office hours, and most of the time having limited manpower. Hence employees start calling up on regular passenger reservation lines to the airline call centers, and thus clog telephone lines actually meant for revenue passengers.

The screenshot shows a web application interface for flight scheduling. At the top, there are search filters: 'Leaving From' (DCA), 'Departing' (Dec 31, 10:00 PM), 'Program' (Space Available), and 'Travelers' (1). Below this, there are tabs for 'Available Flights', 'Departure Flights', and 'Return Flights'. The main content area displays two tables of flight information. The first table, under 'Departure Flights', lists flights from DCA to CLT, CLT to LAX, MIA to RT, and BOS to CLT. The second table, under 'Return Flights', lists flights from CLT to LAX, MIA to RT, and BOS to CLT. Each table includes columns for Flight No., From-To, Departure, Arrival, Elapsed Time, First Economy, Economy, EO, Stops, and Operate.
